CTC Union Awarded IEC 62443-4-1 Certification International Cyber Security Certification

In the Industry 4.0 era, technologies such as 5G, AI, and the Industrial Internet of Things (IIoT) and applications are developing and spreading rapidly. In this context, information security for industrial control has become an issue of high concern worldwide. As industry worldwide increasingly emphasizes information security, CTC Union Technologies, the globally leading manufacturer of network communication equipment, recognizes that obtaining IEC62443-4-1 certification for its products will greatly enhance the core competitiveness of its products.

Its rigorous product development process, strict product development procedures based on the highest standards, safe design methods throughout and good security awareness of all staff led to the decision to follow IEC 62443 certification. This demonstrates that CTC Union Technologies attaches great importance to internal quality control and commitment to the security of customer information.....
